The images are of half vertical sections for the telescopic arms of mobile cranes made of high strength steel. The elements vary in size and can be over 12m long, requiring extreme precision in construction and welding in order to avoid helical deformation.

{phocagallery view=category|categoryid=12|imageshadow=shadow1|displaybuttons=1}